

Department of Geography
GEOG 490: Independent Readings in Geography
3 credits

Course Outline

Calendar Description Independent readings or project (non-research) under the guidance of a staff member specializing in the field of interest.

Guidelines

This course permits students to pursue an independent project (non-research) under the guidance of a faculty member in the Department of Geography. Projects for GEOG 490 should not involve original research or analysis but typically consist of reviews of published scholarly or scientific literature. As a 3-credit course, students should expect to devote

Responsibilities of the Supervisor

Supervisors have general responsibility for guiding the reading list as appropriate. Supervisors are responsible for:

adjusting the

1. Reviewing th